

FOR EVERYTHING A
CHILDCARE CENTRE NEEDS...

Childcare Design & Consenting

At Lifestyle, we've carefully developed a specialist niche within the Childcare sector. We are one of New Zealand's leading Childcare Centre Specialists with hundreds of centres completed and licenced. We most likely design more Childcare Centres than any other architectural company in New Zealand.

We manage the projects from inception through to building consent and even site observation if required. There are no hidden fees in our projects and at all stages we have a fixed fee offering, starting with feasibility, design and resource consent plans, building consent plans (including any council queries).

We use all the top specialists for our projects and our planners have both been team leaders at Auckland Council. Their experience of council processes and personal is invaluable to our team and success.

For your next ECE project, please choose the LifeStyle team as your partner of choice.

“Creating acoustical comfort in the built environment is our passion; we believe that getting the interior acoustic ‘feeling’ right is a key ingredient of good design.”

Asona: New Zealand’s classroom acoustic experts

Proudly making a difference to New Zealand’s learning environments, Asona is a specialist manufacturer, distributor and installer of acoustical and specialty decorative ceiling and wall finishes for the commercial interior and educational construction markets.

We enjoy working closely with Lifestyle Architectural Services on Childcare Centre design. You’ll find we have a proven track-record in delivering practical, effective acoustic solutions.

The importance of Childcare Centre Acoustics

New Zealand children can spend more than 8 hours a day in a Childcare Centre. Much of what they learn while there happens through hearing and listening. But children are often poor listeners who require optimal conditions in order to hear and understand. This is because they are ‘neurologically immature’ and lack the experience necessary to predict from context (adults, on the other hand, can often ‘fill in the gaps’, even if they don’t hear everything).

How effective acoustic solutions enhances learning

Concerningly, children who continually miss key words, phrases and concepts because of poor listening conditions are significantly disadvantaged.

People, especially children, interact powerfully with sound. It can enhance their performance, happiness and sense of well-being. However, a poor acoustic environment can lead to discomfort, loss of concentration, stress and anxiety.

This is why it’s vital classroom learning environments have optimal acoustics for ease of listening. These are just some of the reasons we care so much about getting the acoustics right in Childcare Centres.

Leaders in innovation

We have a passion for innovation and believe in bringing new materials and products to market that offer our customers design, lifecycle cost and service advantages, and that are:

- Acoustically efficient
- Fire safe
- Low in embodied energy
- Attractive
- Durable
- Recyclable

Acoustically tested by Auckland University

To ensure accurate acoustical performance we have invested in full-scale sound absorption and attenuation testing at the Auckland University test chambers (test reports are available on request).

We can custom-design products to suit your needs

We operate our own factory in Auckland and offer our customers short lead times, the flexibility to tailor products to meet decorative, performance and budget objectives and a renovation and repair service to extend product life and reduce land fill waste.

Make sure you have the best acoustic solution for your Childcare Centre. Contact us today.

Since 2007, our professional team have delivered successful playscapes throughout New Zealand. We are dedicated to helping educators grow fantastic kids through inspiring and innovative playscapes.

We'll make a parent's first impression count

First impressions are important when it comes to encouraging parents to enrol their children at an early childhood education centre. A parent wants to feel confident about the centre's environment. They'll look at what your centre has to offer – the level of care, safety, and opportunities for their children to be physically and mentally engaged. As the playground often surrounds a centre's building and is the first and last area that parents will see. The outcome of that experience will greatly affect their decisions. Playscape can help you address key issues that are often overlooked in playground development, design and construction. We can develop a playscape for your centre that will captivate prospective families and delight your existing ones.

TigerTurf have several playground systems that meet a range of different fall height requirements and have been tested to be fully compliant for absorbing impact up to 3 metres.

Ensuring play safety is essential, both for the protection of the children using the equipment and to mitigate risk for the organisations in charge of these play areas. TigerTurf are certified by the Register of Play Inspectors International (RPiI) to review the safety of a playground (fall zones, heights, free space, entrapments, etc) and provide solutions that make children's safety the priority.
